Life of Peter and his Teachings

August 17-20, 2009

9:30am – 12:00 pm

This course investigates Simon Peter's actions and words before and after his conversion. To wavering and inconsistent Peter, Christ Jesus entrusted the keys to the kingdom of heaven. Endowed with power from on high, the apostle became the unswerving pioneer of the church. From Jesus' first words to Simon Peter, “Come, follow me” to His last words, “You must follow me,” the apostle never failed to follow—even though he often stumbled—he would fulfill the Lord's commands to feed His sheep and care for them.

In the New Testament, Peter's name occurs about 160 times, indicating his tremendous contribution to the Christian faith. The actions and words of Peter recorded in the Gospels, Acts, Galatians and his two books, First and Second Peter, will be probed in depth during this intriguing study. Discover Peter's brash and impulsive actions and words changed into brilliant and premeditated principles in his encounters, sermons and writings.

Peter's first letter is filled with living hope and a call to holy living in spite of sufferings that precede glory. His second letter is filled with warnings and exhortations for those expecting the Second Coming of Christ. Combined, the two letters encourage a living faith, which is anchored in the certainty of the apostolic testimony and the divine inspiration of prophetic revelation. In light of our glorious future, we are encouraged to live a balanced life and grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Upon completion of this course, the students should be able to:

1. Know the steps to holy living, a living faith, and a living hope.
2. Grasp the importance of the prophetic Scriptures in light of Christ's coming again.
3. Persevere in the faith in face of the prevailing negative maligning of Christians as dishonorable deviants in need of correction.

These course objectives will be realized through interactive lectures taught by Bob Conway, a teacher at Jamaica Bible College. One CEU will be given upon completion. Study book for the course is $5.00.
